

KIDNAPED ST. LOUIS DOCTOR REPORTED IN CHICAGO

STATE PRINTING DEPARTMENT NOW OBJECT ATTACK

Chicago Democrat Asks Committee Investigation Of It

Springfield, Ill., April 23—(P)—Having weathered an attack on the state Department of Finance relative to Director Garrett D. Kinney's failure to obtain interest on gas tax deposits, the state administration faced a new inquiry today as the result of the introduction of a resolution to investigate the state Department of Printing.

The resolution was offered in the House yesterday by Thomas J. O'Grady, Dem., Chicago, who declared he had been receiving complaints about the department for several weeks. He said he understood payrolls of the department were padded and pointed out that some persons listed on the pay sheet are not known in the towns from which they are supposed to come.

H. L. Williamson, who has been director of the department under several administrations, is in charge of the department. O'Grady's resolution was referred to the House Appropriations committee after he attempted to have it advanced to a second reading without committee reference.

Against Finance Probe
Members of a subcommittee of the appropriations group decided yesterday to report the resolution requesting an investigation of the state Department of Finance with a recommendation that it not be passed.

The committee heard Kinney and State Auditor Oscar Nelson explain the method of procedure in depositing gas tax money at a hearing earlier in the week.

Efforts to obtain an appropriation which would make it possible to hold the 1933 national encampment of the G. A. R. in an Illinois city moved a step closer yesterday when the Senate Appropriations committee reduced the amount of the appropriation and sent the bill out with recommendation for passage.

The bill originally called for a $20,000 appropriation, but is reduced to $15,000.

Election Bill Reported
The Senate Elections committee reported out for passage a bill introduced by Arthur Huebsch, Rep., Chicago, providing for the elimination of party circles on election ballots. Under the bill all candidates would be listed according to office.

Bills to provide prison industrial work in all state institutions, to the Senate which investigated the use of inmate labor at Charleston state prison, Boston; Sing Sing, New York; and the Lawton Reformatory near Washington, D. C.

Six bills were introduced embodying the recommendations of the committee. They provide for:

An immediate survey of the manufacturing possibilities in all state institutions, and a detailed report as to the market for prison-made goods.

Creation of a department of Prison Industries to direct manufacturing work in all state institutions.

Enactment of legislation permitting the sale of prison-made goods to state institutions, and to cities and county organizations.

Creation of a Board of Standardization whose purpose shall be to determine upon a standard brand of articles to be made in prisons.

Enactment of legislation which would compel state, county and city institutions to purchase articles made in the prisons.

Creation of an advisory board composed of representatives from organized labor and manufacturing interests, whose duty it shall be to advise on the type of articles to be made in the prisons.

Aunt Of Deposed King Died Today

Paris, April 23—(UP)—The infant Isabella of Spain, aunt of the exiled King Alfonso, died today.

She was 9 years old and had been in feeble health.

The first tragedy to befall the royal family since it was forced to flee Madrid was attributed partly to the infant's long trip from Madrid to asylum in Paris. She suffered from the excitement and discomfort of the journey and was ailing when she arrived.

The infant had been ill for a year. Alfonso and the Queen were notified of her death and their instructions regarding burial were awaited.

The infant was born in Madrid in 1861, a sister of Alfonso XII, father of the deposed King. She was married at the age of 17 to Prince Gaston of Bourbon-Sicily, who died three years later. She never remarried.

W. O. Purttman Of Oregon Is Called

Warren O. Purttman passed away at his home in Oregon at 2:30 o'clock this morning after a short illness.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Ogle county seat at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with burial at Grand Detour.

Judge Edwards Made Appellate Judge By Court

Judge Harry Edwards of this city was this morning appointed by the Supreme court at Springfield to become a judge of the Appellate court of the Fourth district, which meets at Mt. Vernon. Notice of the appointment was received by Judge Edwards about noon from Supreme Justice Oscar E. Heard.

Judge Fred G. Wolfe of Quincy, who was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Second district of the Appellate court was today named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Franklin H. Boggs. Judge Edwards was appointed to fill the vacancy in the fourth district. Judge Boggs, whose home was at Urbana, died suddenly April 10.

The appointment to the Appellate bench will not interfere materially with the duties of Judge Edwards in the Circuit court. He will continue to reside in this city except when taken away by reason of the Appellate court sessions. Associated with him on the Appellate body are Judge Fulton of Sycamore and Judge Barry of Bloomington. Judge Edwards will continue his residence here and attend the sessions of the Appellate court which are held in February, May and October.

Portuguese Troops Are Off To Battle

Lisbon, Portugal, April 23—(AP)—The Portuguese Minister of Marine, Admiral Corrida, and a force of 600 Portuguese troops were off to the wars today aboard the Carvalho Araujo, converted into a transport.

Their destination is Funchal, Madeira, where the Admiral said every effort would be made to secure a bloodless surrender of rebels holding the port. Falling in this, he will initiate military measures which may involve bombardment of the little island city.

Union Leader Lost Strike: Took Life

Miami, Fla., Apr. 23—(UP)—Abram Wilson, Vice President of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and one of its founders, died in Victoria hospital last night of a bullet wound through the head which police said was self-inflicted. Loss of a strike in his territory, comprising eight southern states, caused nervous breakdown which resulted in his suicide, authorities said here.

Talus, the Greek, is said to have invented the saw from having once found the jawbone of a snake, which he employed to cut through a small piece of wood.

BROOKS TO HEAD CITY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY IN THE NEW CITY COMMISSION'S LINEUP

The newly elected commissioners composing the city council went into session yesterday afternoon in Mayor George C. Dixon's office and emerged to the council chambers shortly before 5 o'clock at which time the heads of the various departments were announced as follows:

George Campbell, Department of Accounts and Finance.

H. A. Brooks, Department of Public Health and Safety.

Herbert S. Nichols, Department of Public Properties.

FAMOUS "BILLY" SUNDAY STRUCK HARD AT BOOZE

A Capacity Audience At Methodist Church Heard Attack

"Billy" Sunday, the "one-and-only" was in town yesterday. He came under the auspices of the American Anti-Saloon League and the Dixon preachers, and his advertised subject was "Booze—Foul and Out." Announced for 2:30 in the big Methodist church, the meeting saw arrivals in the audience starting at 12:30, and at 2 o'clock, choir loft, galleries, side rooms, and every other space consistent with safety was occupied, with many standing, and scores turned away.

So that at 2:10, former Mayor Palmer called the assembly to order. The Rev. Paul M. Gordon, pastor of Bethel Evangelical church, led in the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "America," with Mrs. Emma Smith at the piano. Prayer was spoken by the Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, Methodist pastor and member of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League Board of Directors.

Col. Frank B. Ebert of Los Angeles was presented, and gave a very strong cogent fifteen-minute address, on "The Unfinished Task," which closed with an appeal for funds to promote the work of the League. This met with a liberal response in both cash and five-year pledges, from the audience of over a thousand.

Emmerson Commended
Following Col. Ebert's address, the following resolution, proposed by Rev. Stephenson, was unanimously adopted:

"Because of the timely veto of Gov. Louis L. Emmerson of the vicious O'Grady-McDermott Repeal Bill passed by the present legislature, thereby saving the good name of the state of Illinois and serving the law enforcement statute in our state, and preventing nullification of a Constitutional Amendment by our commonwealth.

"Be it resolved, that in this large community meeting held under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of America, we express to Gov. Emmerson our grateful acknowledgment in this heroic deed an administrative act of wisdom and executed with further and integrity; and be it further resolved that as citizens of our beloved state, we pledge him our loyalty and gratitude."

"Billy" and Mrs. Sunday were brought to the platform at 2:45. Mrs. Sunday spoke for a half minute, explaining how she acquired the sobriquet, "Ma" Sunday.

Sunday was on his feet at the third word of Mayor Palmer's six-word introduction; and for exactly an hour and twenty minutes there was plenty happening. The old gospel warhorse of the U. S. is by no means out of the game. Hair much thinner, face a little pale, body not quite so athletic, and voice less keen but still resonant.

Noted Neurologist Died This Morning

Philadelphia, April 23—(AP)—Dr. Francis X. Dercum, noted neurologist and president of the American Philosophical Society, died suddenly today as he was about to open the annual meeting of the famous scientific organization founded by Benjamin Franklin.

Dr. Dercum, who had been ill, toppled over as he sat in the president's chair surrounded by scientific men from different parts of the country, and died in an adjoining room in a few minutes.

Still 95,581,861 Big Bills In U. S.

Washington, April 23—(UP)—There still are 95,581,861 of the old, large-size bills outstanding nearly two years after the new smaller-sized paper currency began to circulate, Treasury records showed today.

The total number of all paper bills outstanding is 880,200,000. The value of the old notes in circulation is $724,780,861, so that many of them are of large denominations. The total value of currency in circulation is $5,204,000,000.

Saccharin is one of the numerous by-products of the gas-maker's refuse, and it is 300 times as sweet as sugar. It is a coal-tar derivative.

DIXON NATIVE CARRIES FIGHT TO FARM BOARD

Geo. Duis Heads Assn. Which Breaks With Federal Board

(Editor's Note—George Duis, president of the North Dakota-Montana Wheat Growers Association, mentioned in the following dispatch, is a native of Dixon and has gained distinction in his adopted state. He is a brother of Charles Duis of this city.)

Grand Forks, N. D., April 23—(UP)—The North Dakota-Montana Wheat Growers Association, one of the first farmers' co-operative associations to line up with the Federal Farm Board, announced today that "hereafter it will operate independently of the board."

The 25,000 members grain producers will be informed of the decision in the current issue of the "Wheat Grower," official organ, to be mailed tonight.

George E. Duis, president of the association, said claims totalling $620,805.98 will be filed against the Farm Board as a result of the break. His statement contained an attack on the Farm Board's conduct.

"It was not natural to believe that with the enactment of the Agricultural Marketing act, co-operative marketing associations were to receive benefits," Duis said. "Instead, the public money has been spent with sources who had no right to benefit from stabilization efforts of the Farmers National Grain Corporation."

"If farm relief is to be what the Federal Farm Board has handed agriculture through their co-operatives to date, it is certain members of the North Dakota-Montana Wheat Growers Association have had all that kind of relief they want and are ready to go back to their own methods of marketing."

Springfield Dine-Dance Club Raided

Springfield, Ill., April 23—(UP)—Federal agents led by Deputy Probation Administrator James A. Eaton swooped down on the Rainbow Dine and Dance Club here last night and after searching patrons and employees, placed six employees under arrest.

The club, the center of local night life, has been under surveillance for several months, according to Eaton. He declared that he had obtained enough evidence in the raid to arrest all employees an R. C. Dexheimer, proprietor of the establishment.

Opened last Christmas Eve, the club was to have been closed Saturday for the summer season. It has been patronized by residents from all sections of Illinois.

Holdup Along Gold Coast Nets $13,200

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Two robbers held up Mrs. Claire E. More and Mrs. Horace L. Hayward, society women, when their automobile stopped in front of Mrs. More's gold coast apartment last night, and stripped them of jewelry valued at $13,200. They were returning from a loop theatre at the time in Mrs. Hayward's automobile, driven by Sven Hanson. The chauffeur was held powerless by the pair until they had torn the jewelry from the women's fingers and wrists.

Mrs. More's bracelets and rings had been in her family for more than a century, she told police.

Babe Ruth Injured; Taken to Hospital

NEA Telephoto from Boston

Oddities in the NEWS

MUST AVOID TRADE

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—An admonition "not to practice his trade while in jail," was given yesterday by Judge Rudolph Dessort, to Thomas Tangredi, a locksmith, when he sentenced him to six months in "almshouse row" for being $861 in arrears of payments to his wife, Elizabeth.

RACKET IN SNAKES

Madison, Wis., April 23—(UP)—The Wisconsin legislature passed a law today prohibiting rattlesnake racketeering.

The legislators were advised that in sections where rattlesnakes are plentiful, men have been catching them, cutting off the rattles and collecting a bounty, then releasing the snakes to roam the countryside warningless and grow new rattles, thus becoming a potential source of more revenue.

The new law provides that at least half the snake's body must be produced with the rattles to collect the bounty.

The bill awaits the signature of Governor LaFollette.

FISH STORY BELIEVED

New York, April 23—(UP)—Herman Sprekel has a prize fish story and has a prize catch. He still has the story, but the Collector of Customs has the catch.

Sprekel wanted to fish alone so he wouldn't have to share his catch with other fishermen. So he let his boat drift near the shoals of the Rockaways and lowered his net. The first haul brought in an assortment of crabs and fish, but the second haul was so heavy it took all of his strength to pull it aboard. The net, in addition to fish and crabs, contained four sacks of liquor.

He was making his way to shore when marine police overhauled his boat and placed him under arrest. He told them he was rushing to the customs department when they overhauled him. Police apparently thought he had a good story because they released Sprekel minus the liquor.

HIS PLEA FAILED

Joliet, Ill., April 23—(UP)—Steven Smith, 45, an iron worker, was given 10 days in the county jail instead of a fine of $3 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge today when he told Police Judge John Nicholson that he had cast four votes for him in Tuesday's election.

Smith was given lodging in the jail last night on his own request. He walked in his sleep and during his wanderings, went upstairs to the squad room where he created general disorder among the files and furniture.

Arraigned in court today, he heard the judge say something about a $3 fine.

"I don't think you should do that," he told Judge Nicholson. "I voted for you four times Tuesday."

"All right," replied Judge Nicholson. "Ten days in jail if that's the case."

GAVE MARRIAGE O. K.

Los Angeles, April 23—(UP)—When John C. Townner, 29, appeared at the marriage license bureau and obtained certificate to wed Theresa de Mitro, 20, he carried an imposing affidavit.

HAWKS SET NEW PARIS-LONDON RECORD TODAY

American Flier Made Flight In Minute Less Than Hour

Heston, Eng., April 23—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, with two new speed records to his credit, climbed out of his red monoplane here this afternoon just 59 minutes after he had left Le Bouget airport, outside Paris.

He had covered the distance 37 minutes faster than any other man had ever flown it.

It was his second flight, cutting the time to Rome to 5 hours and 20 minutes and leaving European aviators in a daze over his mark for the Channel crossing.

"Boy," he said with a wide grin after he had shaken hands all around. "Those Alps make our Rocky Mountains look like little humps. We pulled through all right, but I still don't know how."

He was talking about yesterday's flight to Rome during which he had to climb 23,989 feet without an oxygen tank.

"Down below all I could see through the fog was snow on the top of mountains and crags. Over my head was nothing but thin air—mighty thin," he said.

Wanted Landing Fee

The small crowd which stood around listening to him bubbled with laughter when he began to tell about the return trip.

"I got off all right at Rome," he said, "and along about Pisa some I came down to fix it. "I don't speak Italian and at the Pisa field there was nobody who could speak English. I tried to make them understand that I was all right, but they wanted 54 lire for a landing fee."

"I don't have any lire and they didn't have any change for your English pound sterling. We had a lot of fun."

When the Captain started out yesterday his idea was to have lunch in Rome and come back here for dinner last night with the Aero Club, but his fuel ran out and he landed at Polylies Gien, about 85 miles south of Paris.

He stayed there over night and this morning hopped into Paris in 24 minutes.

He didn't make his one day round trip, but he's going to try again before he goes home.

Young boys at Lake Jovita, Fla., have formed a club for the purpose of protecting the village against forest fires.

ROCKNE'S SUCCESSOR AS NOTRE DAME ATHLETIC DIRECTOR ONCE LIVED IN PAW PAW AND DIXON

Jesse Harper, who a few days ago was selected to occupy the place made vacant by the untimely death of Knute K. Rockne, Notre Dame athletic director, is a former resident of Dixon and Lee county.

Harper was born and raised about three miles east of Paw Paw in what is known as East Paw Paw community. He attended the schools of that locality as a boy and in 1895 with his parents, moved to Dixon where they resided on College avenue for a few months, during which time he attended the E. C. Smith school.

The new Notre Dame football coach was a classmate both at Paw Paw and in Dixon of Frank Edwards and was well known to many others who attended school at that time.

In the fall of 1895 the Harper family moved from Dixon to Manson, Ia., where the elder Harper engaged in business, Jesse enrolling as a student in the University of Chicago and later becoming affiliated with the coaching staff at Notre Dame where he now occupies the responsible position of director of athletics.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

TWO ARE PAROLED.

Frank Bauman and Robert White of Chicago were admitted to parole in the circuit court yesterday afternoon, both having been indicted by the April grand jury on charges of larceny resulting from the theft of a car belonging to Dan Strub of this city.

P. M. SWORN IN.

A. E. Simonson, who was elected Police Magistrate at Tuesday's municipal election, was sworn into office yesterday by Mayor George C. Dixon, and immediately started serving his second term in his official capacity during which time he has proven himself a very efficient incumbent. His bond was filed today.

LICENSED TO WED.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick: Vernon Rudisill of Mt. Carroll and Miss Ethel M. White of Stockton; Bernard J. Kelsa and Miss Lella E. Kelsey, both of Chicago; Harold E. Evans of Dixon and Miss Grace D. Johnson of Eldena; Cloyd M. Ostrander and Miss Bernice E. Long both of Harmon.

INSPECTED SCHOOLS.

Roy L. Moore, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction, left this morning for Springfield after spending two days in Lee county visiting the high schools in company with County Superintendent L. W. Miller. The high schools at Lee, Steward, Compton, West Brooklyn, Lee Center and Harmon which two and three years course were inspected by the state assistant superintendent.

MANY AT "CITY HOTEL."

The largest list of transients to be accommodated with warm sleeping quarters at the city hall jail, was recorded last night when a total of 29 men applied for lodging. The unusually warm weather of the past two weeks has brought forth an early pilgrimage of transients and the chill weather of the last two nights resulted in the record registration at the city jail.

VICTIM KNOWN HERE.

Mrs. John Clay of Chicago who was robbed of $4,000 in jewelry Tuesday night in a holdup near her Lake Park home, mentioned of which was made in The Telegraph last evening is the wife of the president of the Livestock Loan Agency, who is a brother-in-law of Jack Forrest of Minneapolis, formerly of Dixon, and of Miss Maggie Forrest, who is now a guest at the home of County Clerk and Mrs. Fred G. Dimick.

ROBBERY ATTEMPT FAILS.

Burglars failed in an attempt to enter the Boynton-Richards clothing store at Amboy during the night. Entrance was gained through a window in the basement. The intruders then apparently spent some time trying to force the door leading to the main store room on the first floor, but after some effort, abandoned their plan and crawled out through the same window by which they entered. Deputy Sheriff Ward Miller went to Amboy to investigate but it was found that nothing had been taken and the stock was undisturbed.

SCHOOL FUND SHORT.

County Superintendent L. W. Miller this morning received a check in the sum of $27,102.14 from the office of the state Auditor of Public Accounts at Springfield representing Lee county's share of the school distributive fund. The amount this year is said to be the smallest in many years and is to be divided among the 162 districts of the county. Lee county is short $10,600 of the distributive fund which was to have been paid by the state last year but was held up on account of the Cook county financial difficulties.

THREE DIE ON CROSSING

Gary, Ind., April 23—(AP)—Three men were killed today when the automobile in which they were riding ran into work was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train. One of the victims was not immediately identified. The other two were Jesse C. Johnson and Elby Melton, both of Wheeling, Ind.

OFFICERS DOUBT AUTHENTICITY OF MYSTERIOUS TIP

Thorough Search Is Made Of Hotel Morrison Despite Doubt

BULLETIN.

Chicago, April 23—(UP)—Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, missing St. Louis physician, was seen at the Morrison Hotel here yesterday, a mysterious telegram informed Chicago police today.

Two detectives immediately were assigned to search the hotel "from top to bottom" for anyone answering Dr. Kelley's description.

The telegram said Dr. Kelley was seen on the second floor of the hotel. It was signed "C. G. D."

The New York police department forwarded the telegram here without explaining how or where it was received.

The telegram was sent from New York City at 11:49 P. M., April 22, and read as follows: "Police Commissioner, Chicago."

"Dr. Isaac D. Kelley kidnapped St. Louis second hotel floor Morrison Hotel hundred fifteen feet south and ninety-five feet west of Morrison northwest corner."

The detectives were sent to the hotel for a thorough search despite disbelief in the authenticity of the information.

Two hours of questioning and checking at the hotel failed to produce any confirmation of the telegram or clue to Dr. Kelley's whereabouts. The hunt, however, was ordered continued.

WIFE NEAR BREAKING

St. Louis, April 23—(UP)—Dr. Isaac D. Kelley's millionaire wife and wealthy relatives sought today for a way in which their fortunes might be used to locate the kidnapped physician.

Kelley, socially and professionally prominent, had been missing since 10 P. M. Monday when he was called from his home on a false emergency case.

While Mrs. Kelley gave tacit aid to police in their efforts to locate the ear and nose specialist, it was learned from sources close to her that she could consider no ransom demand "exorbitant" if her husband was returned unharmed.

A picked squad of 50 city detectives was working on the case, but so meager were clues that the last 24 hours were spent just searching for oily roads. In Kelley's car, found 12 hours after his disappearance, were the only footprints of two men.

Wife Near Collapse
The physician's wife, a daughter of the late W. C. McBride, multimillionaire oil man, was reported breaking under the strain of her vigil. She had hoped the abductors would advise her before today of their ransom demand.

CARGO RUSSIAN LUMBER IS HELD FOREXAMINATION

Shipment May Be Made Test Of Treasury Regulations

Washington, April 23—(AP)—Treasury officials today awaited examination of the cargo of Russian lumber which has arrived at Providence, R. I., to determine whether it met Treasury regulations barring convict-produced lumber or had only made a gesture to satisfy home in assistance for action.

It was announced in Russia that the shipment was to test the regulations barring lumber produced in Russian forests north of latitude sixty unless it could be shown convict labor did not enter into the production, but Treasury information was that the lumber was spruce from the forests of southern Russia where no question of convict labor has been raised. Such lumber would be admitted to the United States without question. If the shipment is northern spruce it will be barred pending a hearing and production of proof by the importer that convicts were not used in its production. Treasury regulations promulgated last November required that importers and shippers must shoulder the burden of proof that convicts did not enter into the production, manufacture or mining of any imported article.

Later, the Treasury issued specifically naming Russian lumber from north of latitude sixty as a product which must be accompanied by proof that convicts did not enter into its production. Since the shipment left Leningrad, the Treasury has received information that it was composed entirely of southern spruce against which there is no suspicion of convict labor. The Treasury last summer barred six ship loads of lumber and pulp wood from Russia and they were held up at Providence and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Publisher Is Held On Serious Charge

Los Angeles, April 23—(UP)—Frederic H. Girmau, publisher of a tabloid newspaper, was in jail today charged in a federal indictment with circulating obscene matters through the mails by publication of a series of "exposés" of the private life of Clara Bow.

The articles, of a highly sensational nature, were based on affidavits the paper said were given Girmau by Daisy Devore, former secretary of Clara. Miss Devore denied she had given Girmau the affidavits but said she had promised to tell him intimate details of the actress' private life.

While Girmau was held, police sought two men who were reported to have approached Rex Bell, close friend of Miss Bow, with a proposition to buy Girmau's paper for $25,000 with the understanding that the articles about the actress would cease.

Burke Arraignment Is Again Postponed

St. Joseph, Mich., April 23—(UP)—Fred Burke's arraignment on a charge of murdering policeman Charles Skelly was delayed again today by the illness of Judge Charles E. White who sent word that he did not expect to convene the April term of Berrien Circuit Court until Monday.

Burke was to have been arraigned Monday, but Judge White became ill with a throat infection, and the opening of court was postponed until today.

The notorious gunman, extradited to Michigan after his capture in a St. Joseph, Mo., farmhouse, is reported ready to plead guilty to the murder charge and accept a life term in the Marquette, Mich., state prison.

NEW SPANISH AMBASSADOR TO U. S. IS CRITIC

Has Found Much Fault With This Country And Its Policies

Washington, April 23—(UP)—Research in the State Department library today revealed that Salvador de Madariaga, newly appointed Spanish Ambassador to the United States, has been an outspoken critic of this country and its policies.

Madariaga is a student of international affairs and a prolific writer. Among his numerous magazine articles are many which touch in passing, on the United States.

Writing of the Spanish-American war a recently as 1929, the proposed Ambassador said the United States "owes Spain an apology for the terrible slander it inflicted upon her at the time." He referred to the sinking of the battleship Maine.

Other points on which Madariaga has found fault with the United States in his writing are our conduct in Latin-America, our disarmament policies and the Kellogg pact, fostered by a former Secretary of State.

LAND-OWNERS IN SOVIET UNION TO BE EXTERMINATED

Government Plans Big Drive Against Kulaks In Country

Moscow, April 23—(AP)—A new campaign of extermination against the Kulaks or land-owning peasants, is being planned by the Soviet Union.

Under its provisions the hated Kulak will be branded openly as an enemy of the Communist government, compelled to register and report his movements, to police wherever he may go, and relegated to unimportant work to earn his bread.

Details of the new scheme are published in Izvestia, official organ of the Central Executive Committee of the Soviet Union.

The Kulak's crime is that he once owned land, and sometimes a horse or cow, with which he maintained himself and his family. He resented the collectivists, which took these holdings away from him, and put him on an equal footing with those who owned nothing at all.

It is estimated that there are still 3,000,000 Kulaks in Russia, not including the number who have been banished to the Arctic regions where they live in lumber camps on "no work, no food" basis. Many of them have been shot on conviction of counter-revolutionary activities. The Kulaks in most cases were prosperous peasant farmers before the revolution.

Children under fourteen years old will not bear the stigma of their Kulak parents, but above that age, to receive good standing they will have to renounce their parents and swear to have nothing more to do with them.

Kidnaped Girl And Captor Are Found

Green Bay, Wis., April 23—(UP)—Helen Verheyen, 14, was safe at her home at Little Rapids today and her sweetheart, John Stiekl, 24, who, the girl said, kidnaped and held her prisoner four days, was in the Brown county jail, facing abduction charges.

The search for the couple, in which farmers, state highway police and detectives joined, ended last night at DePere, Wis., when John Ruppier, a friend of Stiekl, informed authorities Stiekl had requested a night's lodging.

Stiekl lived with the Verheyens at Little Rapids for two years prior to last Christmas. He finally was ordered from the house after repeated attempts to marry Helen, her parents said.

Helen's father, Otto Verheyen, said he would press kidnaping charges against Stiekl.

SOCIALISTS RIOT

Toulouse, France, April 23—(UP)—Rioting occurred today when Socialists tried to break up a luncheon at which former Premier Andre Tardieu was speaking. The Socialists threw chairs, bricks and rocks at the police. Mounted guards charged the rioters and beat them to the ground. Several were taken to the hospital.

MARINES ASKED SCORES OF BALL GAMES VIA RADIO

A. P. Writer Talks With Operator With Corps In Nicaragua

BY JAMES FOSTER
Chicago, Apr. 23—(AP)—The Marines in Nicaragua may have an assignment to catch Augustino Sandino but this hasn't lessened their interest in the news from back home, especially the daily baseball scores.

Direct communication with radio station NNINIC, two miles south of Nicaragua, recently wrecked by an earthquake, was maintained last night by Free H. Schnell, amateur radio operator from his home. He gave The Associated Press the privilege of a direct interview with one of three operators in the Marine Corps who have been handling official communications since the earthquake wrecked all other lines of communication.

This operator, Adam G. Hileman, of Anna, Ill., is stationed in the aviation unit of the Marines south of Managua. A candle provided the only light for the operator as he talked.

Relating to the bandit leader Sandino, Hileman said:

"No one knows for sure of his whereabouts. He works with two or three lieutenants, each of whom is in charge of a large group, and each group spreads as a unit making guerrilla attacks and salvage forays. The only way they will get Sandino is to accidentally bump into him."

Has Many Spies
"He has just as many spies, if not more, than we have."

"Just now everything is fairly quiet at Puerto Cabezas. Ships are standing by to take off more Americans if necessary."

"The Nacional Guardia is in command of Marine Corps officers and we are keeping track of each unit of the guard. The two aircraft squadrons and the second brigade of Marines are here now. The Marines and Guardsman have parties in all large cities of Nicaragua, and about 235 men are left in the hills, but they will return here by May 1."

"Know all men by these presents," said the message. "That I, C. J. Townner, am the father of John C. Townner, bearer of this note, and that the said John is of the age of 20 years, and has conceived the idea that he should get married."

"I have endeavored to dissuade him from such a foolish act, but, being of the characteristic stubbornness of the Townner family, he insists on getting married, and has selected as his life partner a beautiful girl by the name of Theresa de Mitro, who has very foolishly consented to marry him."

"My consent to the marriage being necessary, I freely give it, and may the Lord have mercy on their souls."

Sterilization Law Effective In Okla.

Oklahoma City, Apr. 23—(UP)—Governor W. H. Murray has signed a bill giving the State Board of Affairs authority to order the sterilization of insane inmates in state institutions and habitual criminals in the state penal institutions.

The law was written by Dr. J. T. Cray, Stillwater, a state Representative. It provided for sterilization of men under the age of 67 and women under the age of 47 in state hospitals. The Senate amended the measure so that it applied to habitual criminals in any state institution.

The patient will be subject to a medical board for examination, the State Board of Affairs then orders then orders the operation. The patient can appeal to the District Court through a guardian.

Maling To Repeat His Address Before The Woman's Club

John B. Maling will be the speaker at the meeting of the Dixon Woman's Club Saturday afternoon in the parlors at the Christian church. Mr. Maling is a retired business man who for the past ten years has devoted his time to enlightening people on the responsibility of citizenship. His subject on Saturday is, "Principles of Americanism."

Miss Edna Burnham chairman of the Community Service committee who arranged for Mr. Maling's appearance before the club has heard most enthusiastic praise for him from those who heard him lecture before the Dixon D. A. R. organization some time ago. Mr. Maling is prominent and popular before Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. It is hoped that a large number will hear this stirring speaker on "Principles of Americanism."

Dinner Menu
Salmon Cutlets Cream Sauce
Buttered Potatoes and Fresh Peas
Bread Butter
Mint Jelly Salad
Apricot Tapioca Cream
Coffee

Salmon Cutlets
4 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup salmon
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon water
1/2 cups rolled cracker or bread crumbs

Melt butter and add flour. When blended add milk and cook until very thick sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add salt, paprika, celery, parsley and salmon. Beat one minute. Cool. Drop tablespoonfuls of mixture into crumbs, then in egg which has been mixed with water and again in crumbs. Shape like cutlets. Place on platter and chill. When ready to serve, fry "cutlets" until brown in deep hot fat.

Mint Jelly Salad
(Suitable to serve with fish or meats)

Illinois Congress Of P. T. A. Adjourns

East St. Louis, Ill., April 23—(UP)—Parents and teachers of Illinois concluded their discussions of child problems today, following election of officers of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Edward Price Bell, foreign correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, in an address last night urged training of children for good citizenship. "Let us teach them that good citizenship is the workshop of good politics," he said, "and that good politics is a sinequa non of a peaceful and prosperous civilization."

Officers elected were: Mrs. A. W. Garret, Chicago, recording secretary; Mrs. R. W. Dyke, Chicago, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William R. Kerr, Jr. Chicago, treasurer, all re-elected; Mrs. J. J. McCrerie, Moline, historian; District Directors—Mrs. Thomas B. Stephenson, Chicago; Mrs. George Starr, Aurora; Mrs. C. M. Dale, Rockford; Mrs. J. B. Frederick, Rock Island; Mrs. H. W. Kibler, Mendota; Mrs. Phil Wood, Bloomington; Mrs. L. E. Coonrad, Decatur; Mrs. Halbach, Quincy; Mrs. Russell Shiver, Charleston; Mrs. W. H. Whitey, Springfield; Mrs. Alva Brace Meek, Carrollton; Mrs. Arthur Beasley, East St. Louis; Mrs. Harry P. Mape, Centralia; Mrs. J. W. Sneed, Mount Vernon; Mrs. W. C. Mangold, Anna; Mrs. F. J. De Wilde, Berwyn; Mrs. O. M. Ladd, Havana; Mrs. Oliver R. Asper, Evanston; Mrs. Drew W. Castle, Joliet; Mrs. James Graham, Chicago; Mrs. Arthur Lumbrecht, Danville.

Lunch For President Today Cost 23 Cents

Washington, Apr. 23—(AP)—A twenty-five cent piece with the edge sawed off covered the cost of luncheon cooked today for President Hoover.

The meal for a party of eight, prepared in honor of President and Mrs. Hoover, cost $1.89 or 23.6 cents for the presidential plate.

The Girl Scouts Little House, quaint green-shuttered White House neighbor, erected to typify the more modest American home, was the scene of the thrifty luncheon.

The menu was:
Split pea soup 18 cents; Melba toast 10 cents; meat and rice in loaf 40 cents; brown sauce 3 cents; baked potatoes 9 cents; cabbage, lettuce and carrot salad 29 cents; butter, table and cooking, 18 cents, lemon bread pudding 30 cents; tea 8 cents, lemon, sugar, milk for tea 8 cents, whole wheat muffins 21 cents.

The primary purpose of the low cost meal was the launching of Better Home week. But there entered also the thought of a menu appropriate for an average American home whose income may, perhaps have been slightly impaired in the general depression.

The Bureau of Home Economics and the President's Emergency Committee for Employment worked out the menu. Girl Scouts cooked it.

The President's place was at the head of the table in the biggest chair.

Newlyweds Given Shower Last Eve

The Young Married Peoples class of the Brethren Sunday school made Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kurzrock, newlyweds, the recipients of a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kurzrock, 401 Peoria Ave., last evening, the affair being one of much enjoyment. The bride and bridegroom of a fortnight received many pretty and useful gifts from their friends, accompanied by best wishes for a happy married life; and during the evening many happy games were played. To conclude the event the bridegroom's sister, Miss Anna Kurzrock, served a tempting two-course luncheon. Mrs. Kurzrock, before her marriage, was Miss Hope May.

LEISURE FOR EVERYBODY.

The United States, says President Joseph Lee of the National Recreation Association, is now approaching an era of "leisure for everybody."

Mr. Lee made this remark as his organization's board of directors held their annual meeting in the cabinet room of the White House. He enlarged upon it as follows:

"Leisure for everybody, a condition we in America are now approaching, is the most extraordinary change ever granted to a nation. It means the coming of something unheard of in all history—the opportunity for every man to live."

Perhaps it is just a little unfortunate that the United States, at the moment that Mr. Lee made this remark, held some 6,000,000 men who could not find work. A cynical person might be moved to inquire if we are to attain this "leisure for everybody" goal through a constant increase in out-and-out unemployment.

However, social and economic changes require a long view. We are suffering today from a temporary setback, not a total collapse. Judging the case over a period of years, Mr. Lee is undoubtedly correct; and he points to one of the most profoundly important developments in the last thousand years of history.

Leisure for everybody means something more than just an increase in the attendance at baseball games, movie theaters, summer amusement parks and bathing beaches. It means something more than an increase in the stream of pleasure-seeking motorists on the highways. It means something more than an increased demand for luxuries, which industrialists like Henry Ford say will inevitably follow the shortening of working hours.

Of course, it will bring all of these things with it. Millions of people, beyond question, will waste their leisure woefully, to the despair of moralists. But back of this stands another, more significant fact. Work, for the average man, will become a means to an end and not an end in itself. Mankind will discover that it does not have to devote all of its energies to the earning of bread and butter. Scores of millions of horizons will expand.

This development will not be upon us tomorrow, and its fruits will not be fully visible for a long time. But it is coming. Sooner or later we shall find out how to use our labor-saving machinery to the best advantage. The drudgery that turns men and women old at 45 will disappear. And then everyone, and not just the fortunate few, will be able to have life and have it more abundantly. It will be possible, then, to start building a real civilization.

ON A CARTOON.

A recent "Out Our Way" cartoon recalled the boyhood days of many a person in the middle part of life. The native who had returned and was visiting his boyhood playgrounds with some little boys, was instructing them in some of the arts which it seems now are lost, such as seeking sassafras and slippery elm, hunting wild flowers and skipping stones over the water.

What of the other lost arts of boyhood? How many of the boys of today know how to make a maple or a willow whistle? What has come of the handicraft in which boys were once so skilled, and for which a sharp bladed jack knife was necessary? How many boys of today know anything about those treasured blades which came from a noted firm in Sheffield, England, and for which a boy would save and save until he had the huge sum of 75 cents or a dollar with which to make the purchase? Trading pocket knives in those days was a fine art, too, and the boy who had one of those coveted imported blades never did do any trading without seeing what he was about to get in exchange. With those knives the boys used to carve out wonderful works of art from white pine blocks.

The artist, J. R. Williams, must have been filled with the inspiration of springtime, but how did he happen to forget about the maple and willow whistles which, 40 to 50 years ago, at this time of year would be filling the air with music?

The modern boy can dissect an automobile, but he knows nothing of some of the arts which entertained boys of long ago.—Alton, Ill., Telegraph.

Said Scouty, "We are in a school and now's no time for us to fool. Let's sit right down like good boys. Maybe we can learn a lot." "Oh, no," replied the Travel Man. "I'm positive you never can. The lessons that we hear will be in Chinese, like as not."

And he was right. The girls and boys soon started making lots of noise. "They're reading off their lesson," said the Travel Man. "Be still. You see, they chant it, all as one. To you it seems a lot of fun, but it you did that for a spell, it wouldn't be a thrill."

Then came a simple exercise and Copy said, "Gee, they are wise to get that physical training. It will make them nice and strong. Let's join them. We can all do that unless we slip and fall down flat. And that won't happen if we do things right instead of wrong."

And so they formed right into line and, my, they got along just fine until poor Clowny stubbed his toe. Down on the floor he flopped. Two Chinese youngsters grabbed him quick and one said, "I hope you're not sick." Oh, no, I'm merely clumsy," Clowny said. "That's why I dropped."

When everyone had exercised, the Times suddenly realized that school was out and Scouty said, "Come on, we'd better go." Then two tots joined them and one cried, "We're going to sit down, side by side and do some work. Why don't you watch? It may be quite a show."

"Of course we will," wee Carpy said. "So, with your work you go ahead." The little fellows started in and didn't make a slip. They painted on some paper, white and everything they did looked right. The Travel Man explained that they were doing brushmanship.

Yes, Wrong All Over, Through and Through, if You Have Stomach Ulcers

Stomach trouble, especially stomach ulcers, will lessen your earning power, keep you under weight and even spoil your disposition. You know how true this is, if you are afflicted with Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heart Burn, Gastritis or any of the many ways Nature has for telling you to hurry up and start taking ULCICUR. Let Mr. Kirkpatrick of Chicago tell you of his experience. He writes: "Having heard of a complete recovery through use of ULCICUR (which I personally verified) and being on the verge of an operation, I was persuaded to try it, and the immediate results were a revelation to me in the relief it afforded. History of case, from Laboratory examination, St. Bernard's Hospital, indicated Duodenal Ulcers. Symptoms: extreme distress four or five hours after eating, heart burn, excessive gas. Case was of six years' duration."

RUMSEY CO. TO QUIT BUSINESS LAST OF MONTH

Brokerage Firm, With An Office In Dixon,
To Retire

Rumsey & Company, one of the oldest grain commission houses in the trade, will retire from business, effective April 30. The open trades on that date will be taken over by F. S. Lewis & Company.

The passing of this old firm is attributed to the effects of "too much government in business." Viewing the future with some apprehension because of existing and prospective legislation and the activity of the government financed cooperative organizations, members of the concern thought it wise to retire now. The concern has done a large business in handling cash grain for country customers.

H. A. Rumsey, prominent in Chicago north shore social and civic activities, is president of the company, which was founded by his father, Israel P. Rumsey, one of the members of the famous Board of Trade battery during the Civil War. H. A. Rumsey has been a member of the Board of Trade since 1903 and served as director of the board during 1922-24 and as vice president from 1925 to 1926. L. Harry Freeman was vice president and John H. Wheeler secretary of Rumsey & Company.

Well Known Here
Mr. Rumsey is well and favorably known in this community where he has many friends who will regret his decision to retire from business.

Charles D. Anderson has been the manager of the local office of the firm for nine years and has always been popular with buyers of grain, stocks and bonds in Lee and adjoining counties. He has always been well-informed, courteous and obliging and has done much to promote the firm's business here. He will remain with Rumsey & Co. until the first of May, at which time it is probable the business here will be taken over by other interests.

Daily Health Talk

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

In 1929, Miss Marjorie Hopkins, of the department of medicine in the New York Postgraduate Medical School and Hospital made a study of the possible effect of daily fluctuations in humidity and temperatures on the degree of symptoms in 103 patients with hay fever due to sensitization to the pollens of ragweeds.

A similar statement has now been prepared covering conditions in 1930 and a chart has been worked out indicating the relationship between the symptoms, the pollens and the humidity. It is found that the humidity curve is proportional to the symptom curve and the pollen curve is down, the symptom curve and the pollen curve are up and vice versa.

Whenever the rain falls the amount of pollens in the air is less and the symptoms are also less. The charts indicate that an increased amount of pollens in the air frequently precedes by 24 hours an elevation in the curve, indicating the severity of the symptoms. On days when there was a high humidity from rain and a low temperature there were less pollens in the air and therefore less symptoms. On days when there was a low humidity, no rain fall and a relatively high temperature, the pollens were profuse in the air and all of the patients suffered much more severely.

These experiments prove not only the direct relationship between sensitization to pollens and the symptoms of hay fever, but offer also some practical advice to the sufferers with this disease. Obviously the person who suffers with hay fever should try so far as possible, to stay indoors and to prevent the inhalation of pollens on days that are dry and hot.

On the other hand, the individual can be much more comfortable outdoors on days when there is plenty of rain fall and a high humidity. Of course, the best possible advice is for the person with sensitivity to ragweed to get away from the district where ragweed is profuse at the time when he suffers most with his hay fever. He may also try the effects of desensitization.

Search Liner For Smuggled Liquors

New York, Apr. 22 — (AP)—One hundred and twenty-five customs men today were searching every nook and corner of the steamship Ile de France, flagship of the French line, following what they regarded as an authoritative tip that an attempt was being made to smuggle 1000 cases of liquor and a quantity of narcotics into this country.

The customs detail expected to be kept busy searching the Ile de France until Friday afternoon. She is scheduled to sail Saturday.

A similar hunt is expected to be made on all other incoming French Line vessels for several weeks.

INDEPENDENTS IN SMALLER CITIES GET MOST TRADE

Commerce Dept. Survey
Shows Chains Lead
In Big Centers

By THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, April 23 (UP)—The rapid growth of the chain store in the United States is shown in a Commerce Department survey closing that approximately 38 per cent of the nation's retail business falls to the development of the modern mass-production and mass selling era.

The independent store, which still in many places maintains the contacts of the once familiar "general store," continues to get the larger share of the business, or 62 per cent.

A close division of the territory in which each flourishes best is shown in the survey, which covered 465 of the 983 cities of 10,000 population and over. The independent stores do the most business in the smaller cities, with the chain store doing its largest business in the big cities. A general theory was deduced that the larger the city the larger the proportion of business that falls to the chain store.

Sectional and national chain stores account for approximately 17 per cent of total sales in the 485 cities. Total sales amounted to more than $15,000,000,000. The figure varied from 13 per cent of total business in smaller cities from 10,000 population to 30,000 to 19 per cent in the larger cities of more than 1,000,000 population which were included in the survey.

Chains of local stores were next, with 20 per cent of total sales. The percentage ranged from 14 per cent in the smaller cities to 28 per cent for the cities of 1,000,000 population.

The range of the independent store is from 72 per cent of total sales in the smaller cities to 50 per cent in the larger cities, where they are shared equally with the two types of chain store, for an average in the 485 cities of 62 per cent.

Tuition and Scholarship Scale
Jackson, Miss. — (UP)—It pays to be smart at the Millsaps College here. Recently the college inaugurated a sliding scale of tuition in direct ratio to scholarship. Students averaging grades of 90 or better pay $75 a year, those averaging between 75 and 90 pay $100 and if the average is below 75 the cost is $125. Averages are determined on the previous year's work.

RUSSELL BYERS, Mgr.

and far-reaching; he lacks a lot of showing his sixty-seven years, in spite of the tremendous labors since he left the old White Sox, and began "campaigning for the Lord."

Stuck to Subject
"Billy" stuck to his subject. An occasional joke was told for pure fun and variety, and nobody could cross him here—but 99% of his address was a clear positive and orderly championship of prohibition, the 18th amendment and law enforcement. He went after "the dirty bunch of law-violators" for disloyalty to a law fairly passed and carried by an unprecedented majority. He treated seriously and logically many of the objections to prohibition, quoting widely and with surprising facility the country's history touching on such matters from Pennsylvania's "Whiskey Rebellion" in 1794, put down by troops led by Pres. George Washington himself, to the Civil War over slavery.

He flouted, mocked, ridiculed and caricatured with killing humor and sarcasm the "state's rights" and "personal liberty" pleas. How could states' boundaries be held sacred, he said, by a dirty bunch that won't regard international boundaries, and have laid into their graves hundreds of officers of the law?

No Neutral Ground
He insisted that if prohibition breaks down, the saloon must return. There can be no neutral ground. "It's booze or a dry nation. The fight is on, and we must enforce or repeal; modification means only defeat and a return to the saloon, whatever the name or method of it may be. Call it a 'liquor-parade,' a 'beer-depot,' a 'whiskey-cafeteria,' it will be a place where booze is dispensed, and that's a saloon."

Many of Sunday's converts of 26 years ago were present. Some of the ushers yesterday were ushers in that great revival, he'd in a tabernacle back of the present Illinois Northern Northern Utilities office building. Delegations came yesterday as far as from Mendota, Paw Paw, Princeton, and other points equally distant or farther. It was a great meeting, and Sunday had his crowd from his first word to his benediction. Applause was frequent and spontaneous. To the farthest corner of the large building the interest throughout was most intense.

Rockford last night, Minneapolis this afternoon, St. Paul tonight, and the strenuous three weeks' campaign will be over. Next Sunday the churches of Havre, Montana, will begin a five weeks' revival under the leadership of the Sunday party. "Billy" is still going, a 20th century John the Baptist, fearless indomitable imitable. "Sundaysmen" Heard
Drink has defenders but no defense.

The Illinois Repeal Bill, vetoed by the Governor, was intended to put handcuffs on the U. S. Constitution. Why don't the wet gang attack the 19th amendment? They're afraid of the women, and the women will keep the 18th Amendment safe. Liquor has been a curse for ages. Solomon said, "It biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

The wets would put the 18th Amendment on the spot, and take the constitution for a ride. You think your individual opinion gives you the right to break the law? That's just what every fellow in Joel thought!

Every argument of the wets is as weak as soup made out of the shadow of a chicken that has starved to death.

The 18th Amendment can be taken out of the Constitution by the same way it was put there, and don't let the loud-mouthed wets fool you into thinking anything else.

Remove the law, and you become a law unto yourself. We act in this country by majorities. 46 states said "We're through with the saloon." Let these vultures who must have booze get their filthy carcasses into Mexico, Cuba, or some other wet hole and stay there, if they can't obey the Constitution.

Shall we return to legalized booze? Nobody but a fool will fall down twice on the same banana-skin!

70 per cent of the increase in criminals in Federal Penitentiaries is due to other causes than liquor-violations. Most of them are over "dope." Why don't the dear wets, so ardent for law respect, attack the narcotics law as unenforceable?

A list of liquor-law violators reads like a page out of a City Directory from South Italy. Let these alien devils obey our laws, or get back home.

In politics I'm an American first, a Republican second, and a politician third.

On this dry question, don't forget the farmer. He has something to say. The politicians can't fool this gentleman of the bird-tail whiskers.

To deny a preacher the right to express himself on a moral question like this is an damnable insult. I wouldn't give three whoops in Hoboken for a preacher who can be muzzled by a bunch of dirty deacons or elders or stewards.

Jesus shot His guns right into the four-flushers of His day. He gave 'em the hot-end of the poker, and don't you forget it.

We put the 18th Amendment into the Constitution to send the saloon to Hell and to keep it there.

If more booze is sold now than before prohibition, what makes the price of the stuff so high? Nobody but a fool would believe such rot.

Bring back liquor to restore respect for the law? Feed cattle—snake venom to the nursing-baby to make it grow? If such trash isn't treason, then Benedict Arnold was a Sunday School Superintendent and the best patriot.

If the old Democratic and Republican parties go wet, another decent party will be born, just as the old Whig Party died, and the Republican Party was born, when the Whigs tried to compromise on Slavery.

Sample Sunday Stories
I'll try to be brief, friends, but not quite as quick as the darkey soldier at Bordeaux. His officer asked him if he could be ready to sail for home in ten minutes. "Yes, one question first, Boss. What's I to do with the other nine minutes?"

"A man's wife had an Angora cat that he despised. 'What'll I do?' he asked a friend. 'Kill it!' the friend said. 'Oh, I don't want to be that cruel.' 'Well, take it in a sack to the Circle here in Boston, where the eight streets intersect, and turn it loose. It will never bother you again.' In a few days the friend saw him, and asked how he came out. 'I did as you said, and had to follow the cat home, or I'd never made it back myself.'

"A fellow not overly fond of his wife got a letter from kidnapping threatening to take his wife away if he didn't put $50,000 in a hollow stump a certain night. He wrote back: 'Gentlemen, I'm broke, and can't meet your terms; but am interested in your proposition, and would like to hear from you further.'

BOXER'S WIFE WON DECISION
Bridgeport, Conn. — (UP)—James Albert Scott, boxer, boasted an "undefeated" record until his wife got a decision over him in a domestic bout. Scott, she told the court, carried his ring activities into their home. She captured the judge's decision in her divorce plea.

CENTENARIAN SETS RECORD
Southampton, Eng.—(UP)—James Miles is 100, goes to work every day, has been married twice, had 17 children, was the youngest of 21 children, drinks beer but doesn't smoke.

NO END TO PRAISE FOR THE GLY-CAS
Rheumatism, Indigestion, Made Life Miserable; Herbal Remedy Restores Health When All Else Failed.

"Gly-Cas freed me of those nerve wracking aches and pains that almost drove me frantic," said Mrs. J. B. Keffer, 614 South Grand Ave., Enid, Okla., "for several years past I have been troubled with indigestion and constipation suffered terribly after eating my entire system was full of poison, always tired and worn out, had awful headaches, rheumatism settled in my limbs, arms and back crippling me so I was confined to my bed, the pain I endured was almost unbearable, I was ready to give up in despair when I finally began taking Gly-Cas and now I feel like a new woman. Those awful aches and pains of rheumatism have gone, stomach and bowels regulated, never bothered with indigestion headaches any more, sleep well, that tired worn-out feeling has left me. I feel fine and able to do my own housework with ease. Gly-Cas is certainly a wonderful remedy." Gly-Cas is sold by Schildberg's Drug Store, 301 First, Dixon, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

BANDIT ARMIES SPREAD TERROR THROUGH CHINA

Preying On Villagers In North: Government Seems Helpless

Peking, April 23.—(UP)—Embodied by their success in the interior of China, roving bandit armies were invading the north today, spreading terror through a region heretofore comparatively free of brigands.

Gangs now are operating up to the very walls of Peking. The great port of Tientsin already has been entered by outlaws, and the river banks from Tientsin to the sea virtually are under bandit rule.

The outlaws are nearly all former soldiers who have deserted or been disbanded from the Chinese armies. These men, many of them armed, refuse to go back on the farms from which they came, and they now rove the countryside and make their living by robbery, extortion, and kidnapping.

Troops have been sent to suppress them, but have been unable to cope with them, for when the soldiers arrive on the scene the bandits hide in the fields, moving quickly from place to place. The peasants are afraid to place them, for when the soldiers depart they are again at the mercy of the bands, whose vengeance is ruthless.

No Security
In this vicinity there is no security now for either the living or the dead, for the bandits prey upon villagers, travelers, and towns. Even the police are so afraid of the brigands that they carry their favor, and it alleged that the Chief of Police of one town near here attended the marriage ceremonies of a bandit chieftain.

A few weeks ago the wealthy Chinese manager of a big British corporation, Chen Chu-ling, was kidnapped within the city limits of Tientsin, and although $100,000 in silver was paid for his ransom, this did not satisfy the demands of his abductor's who fired three shots and killed him.

Although all the Chinese newspapers are writing strong editorials insisting that the government make immediate efforts to control the situation before it becomes as desperate as it already is in central China, it is alleged that the authorities are trying to hush the matter up by minimizing the danger.

Operation of a half-volt motor on energy supplied by rays of daylight alone is the claim made recently by Dr. Bruno Lange, Berlin scientist.

HOUSE CLEANING TIME

House cleaning time is drawing nigh. That is the time we do or die. We take out the cushions, pull out the rugs. Wash down the windows and floors. We scrub. We take the mop and grab the broom. And start right in to clean the room.

We pull down curtains, move out chairs. We take up this and throw out that. Good thing we have on our dusting cap.—

But goodness, how the dirt does go. But where's it come from, we don't know.

We think we are so clean and prim. But when we come to pull up things. We find those little rolls of dust. And then, we surely raise a fuss.

We say we'll discard this or that. But when the room in order we find. The same old things are back in line. We paint a little here and there. And maybe add a bright new chair.

By night time we are all tired out. We're cross and jumpy, and start to pout. And off to bed we finally creep. And in a moment we're asleep.

Oh yes, it's done up for a time. But wait in a few days or so. The dust will be back as before. And then we'll sweep and clean some more.

But we know our housecleaning's been done. So let's go out and have some fun. —Mrs. Victor Commo

SNOW BLANKETS LARGE AREA OF THE WEST TODAY

High Winds Fan Fires In Forests: Rain Ends Droughts

Chicago, April 23.—(AP)—The spring cold spell with its near freezing temperatures and frosts threatened to continue for the central states, government weather reports forecast today.

Most of the southern Illinois fruit section has escaped freezing temperatures to date, but a light frost was reported from the Carbondale region. Growers were fearful of a heavier frost during the cold spell which they said, would damage apple and peach blossoms.

Northwestern Illinois, Northeastern Missouri and eastern Iowa apple and peach orchardists were also fearful of the heavy frosts.

Kansas City, April 23.—(AP)—Snow blanketed a large area of the west today. Spring flitted restlessly over the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast states, favoring some sections with drought-breaking moisture and fanning forest fires in others.

Snow covered parts of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada and the Sierra mountains. A severe drought in western Nevada was broken by the heaviest fall of the year, which continued early today.

Scores of motor cars were stalled on the highways of the state. Tuesday the mercury touched 82 at Reno, a new high mark for the year.

A light rain broke a 47-day dry spell in Los Angeles yesterday and showers were forecast for today. A forest fire in Gentry canyon, Arizona, was drenched by rain.

High winds swept Oregon, Idaho, Utah and northern California. Foresters worked vainly to check timber fires in Oregon and Idaho. A gale, carrying clouds of sand and dust, wrecked wire transmission lines. Oliver Allen, 40, was killed by the falling of a tree near Medford, Ore.

Rain, hail and dust storms visited Arizona and air mail planes on the southern route were grounded.

The plains states to the east, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Missouri, were due for unsettled weather with probable showers today and tonight. Temperatures were above the freezing mark.

Planned Wrecking Akron In Flight
Akron, O., April 22.—(UP)—Paul F. Kassey planned to stow away aboard the "Akron," giant naval dirigible, to wreck the controls with acid and die as a martyr on the ship's maiden flight. It was stated in a list of particulars filed today as authorities prepared for his trial Monday.

Kassey, a mechanic working on the Zeppelin, was arrested March 19 after Department of Justice undercover men told of his plot to wreck the ship. He denied charges of criminal syndicalism placed against him.

In the bill filed by Assistant Prosecutor George B. Hargreaves, the state claims that the 37-year-old mechanic, a former Austrian army officer, intended to enter the cabin while the ship was in flight and destroy the controls with acid. The bill says that the mechanic told agents he would become a martyr to prevent construction of other ships.

Portugal Starts Drive On Rebels
Lisbon, Portugal, Apr. 22.—(AP)—The Lisbon government today announced commencement of military operation against the rebel garrison at Funchal, Madeira.

A high official of the war department said that no alternative was left after rejection by General Sousa Dias, head of the revolutionary junta there, of an ultimatum demanding cessation of the insurrection.

A radio message has been received by President Carmona Sig Ed Sousa Dias, stating that he would hold Carmona and the Portuguese government responsible for any loss of life which may occur incident to an attack on the island.

America Recognizes Republic Of Spain
Washington, April 22.—(UP)—The State Department today announced formal recognition by the United States of the new republican government of Spain.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson personally announced the government's action, saying that he had instructed American Ambassador Irwin D. Laughlin at Madrid to call at the Spanish Foreign Office at 4:30 P. M. today and extend formal recognition.

Before taking this action, the United States had awaited the action of Great Britain, France and a number of other countries which have accorded recognition during the past week.

on the highways of the state. Tuesday the mercury touched 82 at Reno, a new high mark for the year. A light rain broke a 47-day dry spell in Los Angeles yesterday and showers were forecast for today. A forest fire in Gentry canyon, Arizona, was drenched by rain. High winds swept Oregon, Idaho, Utah and northern California. Foresters worked vainly to check timber fires in Oregon and Idaho. A gale, carrying clouds of sand and dust, wrecked wire transmission lines. Oliver Allen, 40, was killed by the falling of a tree near Medford, Ore. Rain, hail and dust storms visited Arizona and air mail planes on the southern route were grounded. The plains states to the east, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Iowa and Missouri, were due for unsettled weather with probable showers today and tonight. Temperatures were above the freezing mark.

Planned Wrecking Akron In Flight
Akron, O., April 22.—(UP)—Paul F. Kassey planned to stow away aboard the "Akron," giant naval dirigible, to wreck the controls with acid and die

as a martyr on the ship's maiden flight. It was stated in a list of particulars filed today as authorities prepared for his trial Monday.

Kassey, a mechanic working on the Zeppelin, was arrested March 19 after Department of Justice undercover men told of his plot to wreck the ship. He denied charges of criminal syndicalism placed against him.

In the bill filed by Assistant Prosecutor George B. Hargreaves, the state claims that the 37-year-old mechanic, a former Austrian army officer, intended to enter the cabin while the ship was in flight and destroy the controls with acid. The bill says that the mechanic told agents he would become a martyr to prevent construction of other ships.

Portugal Starts Drive On Rebels
Lisbon, Portugal, Apr. 22.—(AP)—The Lisbon government today announced commencement of military operation against the rebel garrison at Funchal, Madeira.

A high official of the war department said that no alternative was left after rejection by General Sousa Dias, head of the revolutionary junta there, of an ultimatum demanding cessation of the insurrection.

A radio message has been received by President Carmona Sig Ed Sousa Dias, stating that he would hold Carmona and the Portuguese government responsible for any loss of life which may occur incident to an attack on the island.

America Recognizes Republic Of Spain
Washington, April 22.—(UP)—The State Department today announced formal recognition by the United States of the new republican government of Spain.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson personally announced the government's action, saying that he had instructed American Ambassador Irwin D. Laughlin at Madrid to call at the Spanish Foreign Office at 4:30 P. M. today and extend formal recognition.

Before taking this action, the United States had awaited the action of Great Britain, France and a number of other countries which have accorded recognition during the past week.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONFERENCE AT AMBOY SATURDAY

Churches Of County To Participate In An
All-Day Meeting

The young people of the Congregational, Methodist and Baptist churches are sponsoring a young people's conference for the churches of Lee county to be held in Amboy Saturday. It has been patterned after the most successful state conference held at Springfield last fall.

The primary issues involved in the conference are those of discussing the problems with which the young people of today meet, and to further fellowship among churches. As the problems of youth are many in number, a few of the outstanding ones have been selected for the discussion groups at the conference.

The churches have been working with undiminished effort for quite some time in planning for the conference among other things sending delegations to various churches of the county to create interest.

The conference will be brought to a climax in a banquet held at 6:15 designed with stunts, singing, cheer, etc., to be most interesting and help accomplish are of the main purposes of the conference that of furthering acquaintances among churches.

Play Is Planned

A program including a play "The Half of My Goods" will take place after the banquet. The play will be religious in nature and should prove most interesting, with the aid of lighting effects and the talent which it has been possible to procure.

Charges will be very nominal, 50c for the banquet served at the Congregational church and 25c for lunch served at the Baptist church. There will be a registration fee of 25c making the maximum cost for the entire day $1. This last fee includes all discussion groups and the program after the banquet.

It is hoped that there will be an attendance of 150 or more. Anyone interested should feel free to attend either the banquet or the entire conference.

Reservations for banquet may be made at Eichlers Dry Goods store, Amboy, through Bernard Ollman.

Following is a program for the entire day:

Your FLOWER GARDEN

By D. VICTOR LUMSDEN
Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S.
Department of Agriculture
Written Especially for NEA Service and the Evening Telegraph.

We depend on annuals for much of the color in the flower garden during the summer. Because of their rapid growth and wide variation of form and color they are favorites in newly made gardens.

Annuals divide into two groups according to planting times. One group is hardy and seeds can be sown as soon as the soil is dried out enough to spade.

The second group of annuals are tender, and these should not be sown out of doors until after the soil has warmed up and the maple trees are well in leaf.

To hasten their development both the hardy and tender annuals are frequently started indoors—or in a hotbed or cold frame—and protected until it is safe to transplant them into the garden.

Large Choice

Some of the more popular hardy annuals which will not be injured by the low temperatures of early spring are candytuft, clarkia, cornflower, cosmos, Chinese pink, forget-me-not, godetia, larkspur, poppy, snapdragon, stock, sunflower, sweet alyssum, sweet sultan and zinnia.

Annuals which need more protection and require a warm soil for germination are amaranth, browallia, celosia, datura, evening primrose, feverfew, montbretia, stevia and torenia.

Herbaceous perennials are also grown from seeds which are sown in late spring or early summer. The seeds which can be sown very early in the spring will in some cases produce flowers the first year but in most cases the plants produce only leaves and a good root system the first growing season.

As their name implies, these plants die to the ground each fall but the underground parts live through the winter and the second year they become effective as flowering plants.

Types Grown From Seed

Many different kinds of herbaceous perennials are grown from seeds. A few of these are hollyhock, anchusa, delphinium, aquilegia, oriental poppy, sweet william, phlox, hardy candytuft, and Canterbury bells. Widely known herbaceous perennials which are usually propagated vegetatively in order to retain choice varieties are iris, the peony, the chrysanthemum and gladiolus.

In the spring nothing can be done to establish spring flowering bulbs except to make a memorandum to obtain a stock of these bulbs—such as narcissus, tulips and hyacinths—and plant them early next fall to bloom the following spring.

For the earliest mass of bloom in the flower garden nothing can take the place of spring flowering bulbs.

Tomorrow: Ornamental plants.

EIGHT YEAR OLD FISH FATAL

Paris—(UP)—Katsuki Toda, a Japanese member of the Montparnasse art colony in Paris has succumbed to internal inflammation caused by eating a fish which he brought from Japan eight years ago. He is said to have been compelled by lack of other food to eat the aged fish.

Got Honorable Mention In Poem Contest Recently

BY NELDA BOHNSTIEL

I was brought up out in Dixon,
Dixon, out in Illinois.
Where I spent such happy days
As a little boy.

In that city—there's Rock River,
Which divides the town in two.
Over which they now have bridges
One-years old, and one brand new.

Of the beauties of this river,
Many tried in vain to tell.
And the pleasure that it brings them
Dixon people know full well.

So last year while traveling westward,
I was very glad to see
That our road would lead through
Dixon—
Where my old home used to be.

How my heart throbbed as we neared
it.
And the Airport—east of town.
Proved before we even reached it
Dixon had air-minded grown.

Once more on it's street I traveled,
Faces old and faces new greeted me
But I was only remembered—
By a very, very few.

O'er the new bridge I traveled,
Marveled at it's "High School,"
new.
Which like some grand dream castle
Showed that Dixon prospered too.

Near the school they placed a statue
Of a man—we all know well.
And tales of the soldier "Lincoln"
Every small school child can tell.

Tail brick buildings, schools and
Where a hundred years ago—
Indians and some few white folk
Used this land their corn to grow

Good brave folk were these first settlers,
And they worked both long and hard.

To see Dixon as it is today
Would to them be much reward.
How they'd marvel if they saw it,
Courthouse, bridges, paved highways,
Where through mud with teams they traveled
In those "1830" days.

I enjoyed my stop at Dixon,
Even though I could not stay.
My heart, it seemed, felt strangely
lighter,
As we westward wound our way.

Somehow when I think of Dixon,
Memories stirred within my breast,
And I wish I once more lived there,
On that "Hudson of the West."

TOM R. PHILLIPS, PUBLISHER OF THE HOLDENVILLE (OKLA-HOMA) DAILY NEWS SAYS:

THAT economic depression enhances the value of a newspaper to a community. Only when competition for business becomes very keen can the services and offices of a live, aggressive newspaper in the community be fully appreciated.

"Storekeepers" who have failed to acquire an appreciation of newspaper advertising are fast passing out of the merchandising picture. Merchants who merchandise are the ones who are weathering the storm of business depression.

Notwithstanding the decline in the price of crude oil, the drought in the southwest and the ill effects of national—yes, international—business curtailment, the circulation of the Holdenville Daily News has gained steadily in recent months.
With little decline in the volume of display and classified advertising.
This confirms the belief that the newspaper is of more value to the community in "hard" times than in good times.

Another lesson that should be learned from economic curtailment and depression is that legitimate business should not be hampered by needless governmental regulation and restraint. Corporations must prosper if they are to provide remunerative employment for labor.
This applies to public utilities as well as other corporations. Monopolies and abuse of power on the part of "big business" should not be tolerated. BUT WEALTH IS ES-SENTIAL TO OUR ECONOMIC WELFARE AND SHOULD NOT BE UNDULY HAMPERED.

Mrs. Mary M. Richardson spent the week-end in Ransom at the Walter Wellman home. Sunday they all motored to Chicago. Mr. Wellman and Mrs. Richardson returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. John and little daughter Rita Mae motored to Rockford Sunday to see their new nephew, John Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Akey.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leake, daughters Mildred and Edwina, B. F. Lane and John Fauble were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. H. A.
Bahen at Utica. In the evening they were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs.
George Fauble of La Moille.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lawrence are moving to the Mrs. Addie Briggs home this week and are having it papered and decorated.

Mildred Leake spent Monday in Sterling.

Supervisor A. L. Willis attended the meeting of the county board in Dixon Tuesday.

Auto Runs 59 Miles On Gallon Of Gas

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quick-

Happiness

MAKE THIS TEST—Visit the happiest family you know—that family whose health, prosperity and contentment you have always envied. Inquire as to the bedding in use in that home.

You will undoubtedly learn that each sleeping place is equipped with a modern, clean and comfortable mattress and fresh, well-filled pillows. These aid greatly in bringing health and happiness; for true rest is nature's cure-all.

Check your bedding. Poor mattresses and pillows are often the cause of unhappiness. They can be replaced at moderate cost with fine, comfortable mattresses and soft, fluffy pillows. A small investment in these products will help bring lasting happiness to your family.

LAWRENCE TELLS OF REFUSING OF ALL DECORATIONS

Hero Of Desert Warfare Turned Down Offers Made By King

By HENRY T. RUSSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1931, in all countries by United Press. All rights reserved.)
Plymouth, England, April 23 (UP)—How at Buckingham Palace he refused two decorations from the hands of the King of England himself, was revealed for the first time by Aircraftman T. E. Shaw, (Lawrence of Arabia), once an army Colonel, today an Air Force private; the man who during the war ousted the Turks from the desert and put Arabia on the map.
After his work in rallying to the allied cause thousands of Arabs in the desert, the British government sought to reward him.
It offered him money; he refused. It offered him high posts; he turned them down.
In the same way he spurned decorations which, he said, would have "shut my mouth."
He said he would not take a thing until the government had fulfilled promises made by him to the Arabs on behalf of Britain. In spite of these objections officials notified him that he had been recommended for two coveted honors, V. B. (Commander of the Bath) and D. S. O. (Distinguished Service Order).
Despite his protests both the awards were "gazetted" and he was summoned to Buckingham Palace to meet the King.
"I was ushered into the presence of the King," he said today. "He was kind enough to chat about my job in the desert. Imagine my surprise when, in spite of my previous refusals to the government, the King motioned to two decorations which lay on a nearby table and signified that they were for me!"
He apologized.
"Immediately I explained that when officials suggested I was to be honored, I objected and declined. Of course I apologized. I deplored the fact misguided officialdom should have brought about the circumstances. And I told him that my previous decision not to accept the decorations must stand."
"Naturally the whole thing was most awkward. It was neither the fault of the King, nor mine. The officials had no business to recommend me against my wish."
"Many versions of this incident have been circulated. It is said that I went to the palace in Arab costume. I did not. I was a Colonel in the Army at the time and went in my uniform."
"I have heard it said that the King pinned one decoration to my breast only to find that I had removed it when he went to pin the second one. This and other versions may sound better than the original, but they are not true."
"Nothing could have been more awkward and unpleasant than what actually occurred."
Although, in refusing the decorations, Lawrence complained bitterly to the King of the manner in which the cabinet had dealt with the Arab question, no ill-feeling resulted.

Found King Kind
"The King," he said, "was most kind and understanding."
Several months later Lawrence again saw the King. This time he went to Buckingham Palace in an Arab costume. He acted as interpreter between the King and Faisal, King of Iraq. The King recalled Lawrence's previous visit on this occasion and spoke to him cordially.
When the King heard that Lawrence was publishing his now famous "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," he instructed his secretary, Lord Stamfordham, to offer a subscription. He meant, thus, to forestall a possible gift by Lawrence because he had learned of the high value of the edition ($150). But Lawrence wrote to say that in calculating the sale price of the edition he had planned to work off a special presentation for the King. He asked, therefore, that the King should be willing to accept one in the circumstances. The King agreed. The book subsequently was placed in his valuable library.
On one visit to the palace when Lawrence was describing his war in the desert in answer to questions, the King asked him if he did not have something which could be added to his (the King's) unique collection of war souvenirs. Lawrence suggested several objects including one which had been intimately connected with the Kaiser. The King smilingly declined the latter. Finally he accepted a rifle.
Speaking of the decorations which he refused, Lawrence pointed out that he was actually in doubt to this day as to the legal status of his case.
Doubts His Status
"I am in the unusual position of having refused decorations which have been gazetted. To the best of my knowledge the announcements in the gazette have not been cancelled. So I presume that legally I might be entitled to them although I refused to take them from the King. But the matter is indifferent to me."
Referring then to the circumstances which led to his refusal to be decorated, Lawrence recalled that his object was to obtain from the government the fulfillment of promises he made to the Arabs on behalf of Britain in exchange for Arab participation in the war on the allied side.
"I could not get satisfaction at the time," he said, "so when they tried to reward me and at the same time let down the Arabs, naturally I refused. This, of course, gave me a free hand. They failed to shut me up. I told them all what I thought of them. After a long fight in which I was fortunate in obtaining the support of Winston Churchill, I secured for the Arabs all that was humanly practical and possible to secure."
Got What He Wanted
A number of the promises made to the inhabitants of the desert, he said, never could have been carried out. At one time, for instance, he said, there was talk of creating an Arab federation.
"On paper this looked all right," Lawrence said, "but in practice it would have worked out hopelessly." The point was, he said, that vast stretches of desert would have separated member tribes. There could not, he added, have existed proper political unity between tribes who had no telephones, telegraphs or railways connecting their respective territories; came's being the sole mode of transport in the desert.
His struggles to obtain what he wanted for the Arabs during the Paris Peace Conference, he said, were complicated by Franco-British bargaining.
Among the French, he said, Clemenceau behaved splendidly toward him and the Arabs. But in the end Britain induced France to part with Mosul in exchange for a mandate over Syria which they received at the expense of the Syrians!
At one time matters had reached a serious stage. Lawrence was asked to accept an important post in connection with Arabian affairs. He refused.
He said he would not work under certain members of the cabinet. He had warm words with one of them in particular at a meeting in Downing Street.
Finally he was induced to accept a temporary post as "adviser" to Winston Churchill. It was through this, he said, that he got what he wanted for "my Arabs."

Hoover Studying Govt. Machinery
Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Hoover is making a thorough study of administrative machinery of the federal government.
With Congress out of session several months for the first time in his two years in office, the Chief Executive has turned his attention to administrative affairs.
The inspection is being conducted mostly for his own information, but there is a possibility that he may discover the need of legislation to bring several bureaus up-to-date. If so, he will make his recommendations to Congress in December.
The President is not conducting his inquiry primarily through Cabinet members but is calling in bureau and commission heads from all over town. Cabinet members are consulted at times but most of the work is being done through the "little cabinet," as assistant secretaries and bureau chiefs are called.
One of the reasons Mr. Hoover decided he could not make a trip through the National Parks and his home at Palo Alto, California, was that he needed the time for this survey.
In addition to his study of the departments, Mr. Hoover is devoted ing considerable time to preparation of speeches he will deliver between now and the middle of June. The first will be before the International Chamber of Commerce here on May 4. Work on it is almost completed.

PREACHER IS SUED
Kansas City, Kas., Apr. 22 (UP)—The Rev. James Cornish, formerly of Kansas City, Kas., but now of Great Bend, Kas., appeared as the defendant today in a $15,000 damage suit filed by a choir singer, Mrs. Bertha Thomas, who charges she was kissed against her will.
Mrs. Thomas asks $1,000 actual and $4,000 punitive damages. She alleges that Cornish kissed her when she went to the church offices in January, 1930.
When the petition was filed Mrs. Thomas said she believed publicity concerning the minister's conduct would "protect other women from such advances."
Cornish denied her charges and said the suit was "attempted blackmail."
Particular housewives use our paper for pantry shelves and bureau drawers. We have it in delicate shades—pink, blue, canary, green also white. It is in rolls, 10c to 50c. B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

THAT LITTLE BUT POWERFUL DIFFERENCE

LOOK MUCH ALIKE — BUT THEY'RE NOT

GASOLINES LOOK MUCH ALIKE — BUT THEY'RE NOT

Everybody KNOWS that coals from different mines differ in heat units, carbon content and gases. Everyone should know that there is an equal difference in the power units, gum content and volatility of various gasolines—though they look much alike. This knowledge means a lot to those who use it.

PARCOETHYL gasoline, for instance, differs as much from other Ethyl gasolines as hard coal differs from soft. It is cleaner, purer and better in every way. It is free of gum, sulphur and carbon creating residue. Its volatility is such that all of it explodes when the spark hits it—hence its quick starting, tremendous power and phenomenal mileage. And then, to this superb gasoline Ethyl fluid is added to make it certified anti-knock.

"Doctor recommended it," says Miller, of Camden, N. J.

Camden, N. J.—"More than four years ago my doctor recommended Pluto Mineral Water to me as a preventive of constipation," says Louis H. Miller, local resident. "I knew it, of course, as a prompt relief measure, but this was a new use. Ever since that time, my whole family has used it, and we would not be without it for a minute. The treatment is simple—a small dose, in plain hot or cold water, each morning upon arising. It keeps the system always up to par, and helps ward off many serious complaints."

Pluto Mineral Water is Nature's own remedy. It acts promptly (thirty minutes to two hours) and cannot gripe or injure delicate tissues. Physicians recommend it because they know it is non-habit-forming. Pluto Water, bottled at French Lick Springs, Ind., is on sale at drug stores everywhere, and at fountains.

RUTH'S INJURY TO TEST YANKS' FIGHTING SPIRIT

Bambino Injured A Leg Badly: May Be Out For Fortnight

(BULLETIN) Boston, Apr. 23—(UP)—Babe Ruth, the New York Yankees $80,000-a-year star, injured in yesterday's Red Sox game, must remain at Peter Bent Brigham hospital "at least two or three days" and even after his release must remain out of the game temporarily.

Dr. Francis C. Newton, who with Dr. John Homans, is attending the patient, told the United Press today that the home run king was suffering from "severe muscle and nerve injuries, the extent of which has not been fully determined yet."

It was indicated another X-ray would be taken today. An X-ray taken last night showed no broken bones.

Boston, Apr. 23—(UP)—Just how long Babe Ruth will remain off the New York Yankees' lineup will be known after physicians at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital hold a consultation today.

Ruth suffered a severe injury to his left leg in the sixth inning of yesterday's game with the Red Sox at Fenway park, which the New York team won, 7 to 5. He was removed to the hospital for treatment. No bones were broken but he was held for observation.

Running home in the sixth inning Ruth crashed into Charlie Berry, Red Sox catcher, and took a headlong plunge to the dirt. It was then that he received his injuries—those which hospital attaches described as a "severe contusion."

Though the leg pained him somewhat, Ruth insisted on remaining in play and everything went along fine until toward the close of the sixth inning. Then, when dashing after a long left field fly driven out by Tom Oliver, Sox batsman Ruth appeared to stumble as he neared the first falling ball. When he failed to pick himself up, fellow teammates came rushing on to the field to the spot where Babe lay prostrate. They picked him up, carried him to the Yankees' club house and administered first aid.

Mrs. Ruth, who was viewing the game from a box, came into the club house, as a physician was examining Ruth's injured leg.

"It's broken," sobbed the Yankees' star batsman. He was in great pain. He was removed to the hospital, where physicians diagnosed the injury as a "severe contusion." Complete diagnosis, it was reported, would be made today.

EFFECT UNCERTAIN
New York, Apr. 23—(UP)—The truth of the baseball axiom, "As Ruth goes, so go the Yankees," will be tested in the ensuing fortnight.

Ruth is out of the game because of an injured leg, and if the 1931 Yankees follow the precedent set by other Yankee teams in recent years, their present leadership of the American League will be of brief duration. Ruth has been going great this spring, and the Yankees have been the sensation of the league. They have won six of eight starts, including two out of three from the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, and are leading the pack—a full game in front of the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians, and three games ahead of Philadelphia.

Team Faces Real Test
Now that Ruth is out, the Yankees face a real test. Ten of their next 14 games are against their most dangerous rivals—Washington and Philadelphia. If Ruth is out of these games, or is handicapped by his injuries and the team follows the example of its predecessors, which invariably went into a tailspin when Ruth failed to set the winning pace, they may drop completely out of the race.

The extent of Ruth's injuries still are uncertain. Babe says he will be back within a week, but physicians are less optimistic and intimate he may be out for a month. Even though he returns to the lineup there is a strong probability that the big slugger will be slowed down by his injured leg and fail to continue his great early season play.

Ruth has reached an age where he no longer can be expected to shake off injuries in a hurry. Leg injuries especially are dangerous—usually they are the first indication that an athlete is reaching the end of his career. Manager Joe McCarthy doubtless will insist that Ruth take no chance of aggravating his present injury by trying to play before he is recovered completely.

Has Good Substitute
Fortunately for McCarthy, the Yankees have a capable substitute for Ruth in young Myrhaoge, expensive Coast League rookie, in addition, the 1931 Yanks appear to have better spirit than New York teams of recent years and are likely to continue their hard-fighting "heads-up" play despite Ruth's absence.

Yesterday's injury may be a severe blow to Ruth's personal ambition, as was an injury to his hand last season. At that time Babe was leading his record home run schedule by 12 days with an excellent chance of bettering his 1927 mark of 60 homers. His injured hand kept him out of the game for only a week, but handicapped his hitting for more than a month and cost him the 1930 home run championship.

This year Babe again started with a rush, and at present he has three home runs to his credit—three more than at the corresponding date in 1930 and one more than in 1927 when he failed to hit No. 3 until April 24.

Basketball Gossip

BY GAYLOR TALBOT, JR.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
There still is nothing that quite takes the place of old-fashioned, air-tight pitching when it comes to winning the ball games. And it takes no more than a cursory examination of the records up to now to discover why the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves are setting the National League back on its heels, nor why the New York Yankees are doing likewise to the junior circuit.

They have been getting some swell pitching. In seven games the Cards' great mound staff has allowed only 19 runs, considerably under three to the contest, and the Braves' surprisingly stout staff has given up only 28 scores in nine tilts. Yankee mounds-men have held opponents to 29 runs in eight games and five of their starting pitchers have been in at the finish. This would seem to be as good an answer as any to the skeptics who wondered what the Yanks would do for pitching this season.

By way of contrast, only one member of the Philadelphia Nationals' staff, Jim Elliott, has managed to go the route in nine games.

Old Tom Zachary became the third Braves hurler to start and finish in as many days when he set the hapless Brooklyn Robins down with four less hits yesterday and blanked them, 4 to 0. So completely befuddled was the flock that Uncle Bobbie sent in pinch batters for Babe Herman and Lefty O'Doul in the ninth.

Two Card pitchers, Sylvester Johnson and Jim Lindsey, gave a similar masterpiece in beating the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2. They allowed only four hits, and not a Red was left on base.

Although the Yankees increased their advantage over Washington and Cleveland by trimming the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 5, there was little satisfaction in the victory. Babe Ruth was injured going after a fly in the sixth inning and there was a possibility he would be out several weeks. Up to the time he was hurt the Bambino had driven in three runs and scored twice.

A three-run spurge in the seventh, touched off by Hughie Critz's home run, enabled the Giants to nose out the Phillies, 5 to 4, in their debut at the Polo Grounds. Clarence Mitchell went the route, allowing 11 hits but checking the Phils in the pinches.

The Athletics gave Lefty Grove a four run lead in the first inning and that was sufficient. He beat Washington, 5 to 1, Joe Cronin's homerun in the second depriving him of a shutout.

Pat Caraway was invincible after the second inning and the Chicago White Sox opened before the home folks with a 10 to 2 win over Cleveland. Eichrodt led a 14-hit assault on three Indian curvers with four hits and a sacrifice in five trips.

Rain kept the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates apart, and wet grounds prevented the scheduled Tiger-Brown skirmish at Detroit.

Made Futile Hunt For Bank Robbers

Sheriff's forces, members of the police department, state highway police and bank guards patrolled state highways south of Dixon Wednesday morning until noon, when a report was received at the sheriff's office of the robbery of a bank at Wyanet. The first information received was to the effect that two bank bandits in a Chevrolet car had driven through Princeton and were coming north into Lee county presumably on route 89.

Sheriff Richardson headed one car load of heavily armed deputies and bank guards from Dixon, who patrolled the highway south to Ohio. There it was learned that the first report had been error and that the bank which had been robbed was at Neponset and it was not known in what direction the two bandits had left.

PENNOCK GIVES MARSE JOE MUCH TO CHEER ABOUT

Southpaw, Thought To Be Through Is Going Strong

By HERBERT W. BARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, April 23—(AP)—Herb

Pennock, the experts agreed two years ago, was "all through." But if you can find any more like him right now there's an opening or two on the New York Yankees' roster.

Stricken with a severe and persistent attack of neuritis in his educated left arm, Pennock wasn't much use to the Yankees in 1929 when for the first time in his career as a Yankee he lost more games than he won. Last year he showed enough improvement to win 11 games while losing seven.

The chances are that Joe McCarthy, new boss of the Yankees, did not bank very much on the 37-year-old southpaw when he laid his plans for the 1931 campaign but already Pennock has staged a remarkable comeback and afforded "Marse Joe" with at least a partial solution for his pitching problems.

Pennock, generally rated as the smartest of all present-day pitchers, has started twice in the seven games the Yankees have played so far, gone the route and won both of them, and allowed the opposition a grand total of two runs and 15 hits in 18 innings.

In his first start on April 16, Herb outpitched Horace Lickenbee of the Red Sox to win a 1 to 0 decision. Tuesday he held the slugging Philadelphia Athletics to seven hits, three of which came in the ninth inning and produced the A's only run, while his teammates pounded out a 12-1 decision.

Control has been the principal factor in Pennock's ability to keep going after 18 years in the Majors. He knows the batters from "A" to "Z," and knows what to pitch them, and what is more, knows that the ball is going to go where he intends it.

He has walked only one man in the 18 innings he has pitched this year and that was an intentional pass when the Red Sox proved threatening.

PAW PAW NEWS

PawPaw—Mrs. William Adrian entertained the Twentieth Century club Friday for the April meeting.

Mrs. Deutsch, president of the Lee County Woman's clubs, gave a very instructive talk on the club work of Illinois and urged the attendance of delegates and members of the convention and especially the one at Dixon, May 13-14. Two young men, representatives of the I. N. U. C. O., entertained the members with views of our own state and a lecture accompanying the slides, on "Know Illinois." This was greatly enjoyed, and the company certainly appreciated the efforts of the committee in securing the talent for the afternoon.

This was followed by an hour of sociability and during this time little Miss Marilyn Wheeler of Elmwood Park gave a number of tap dances and one ballet dance. She was very charming in her appearance and displayed much rhythm in her steps.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Beulah Wheeler, served a dainty luncheon.

The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Deutsch of Dixon; Mrs. A. G. Parker, Mrs. Anna Warren, Mrs. Lydia Flewellyn of Shabbona; Mrs. Ceta Smith of Oak Park, and Mrs. Robert Wheeler and daughter of Elmwood.

Tuesday evening was initiation night at Foster chapter of the Eastern Star. Visitors were present from D. A. Town Chapter at Earlville, Junonia Chapter at Compton, and Poonopah Chapter at Shabbona. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hartman were the initiates. The work was put on entirely by the local officers.

After the regular work was completed, refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed until midnight.

Those present from Earlville included A. D. Van Ornum, Fred B. Keeler, Miss Nelly Keeler, Miss Mattie Walters, Miss Addie Beale, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Sadie Humm, Mrs. Adele Dudley, Mrs. Lulu Hill, Mrs. Pearl Butler, Mrs. Edith Van Ornum and Miss Florence Lynn.

Shabbona visitors were Fred E. F. Frost and Mrs. Anna Frost.

The Compton guests included A. J. Beemer, Mrs. Cora Beemer, Mrs. Clara Corwin, Mrs. Mabel Cook, Mrs. Lulu Richardson, Mrs. Mamie Beemer, Mrs. Dee Thompson and Mrs. Nellie Bernardin.

Miss Marjorie Parks spent the weekend at her home in Rochelle. On this Tuesday the voters of Paw Paw will choose at president and three members of the village board. The incumbents are all candidates for re-election. Dr. S. R. Dickie for president and Alfred Burnett, Jake Martin and R. S. Tarr for trustees.

Mrs. Olive Shaftoe had as dinner guests Saturday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry Norton's 81st birthday Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cornell and daughter Grace, Mrs. Newton Woods, Mrs. Cella Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Firkins. Mrs. Norton received post cards, candy, etc., as remembrance.

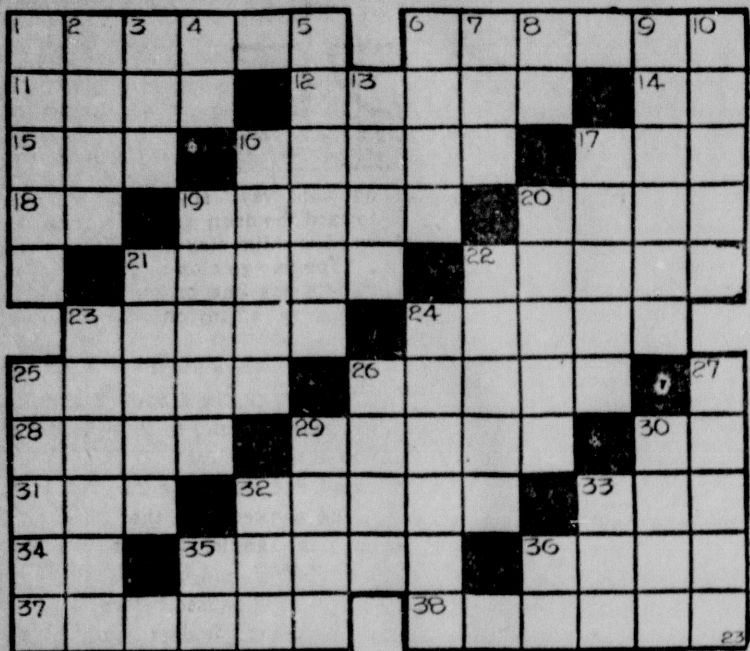

Lowell Uirey spent Sunday in Sycamore visiting at the Glenn Niebergall home.

Howard Yenerich was on the sick list Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Woods of DeKalb and Mr. and Mrs. Armond Case

OBITUARY

MRS. J. L. POFFENBERGER

Sadie M. Poffenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham J. Horner was born at Dixon, Ill., Sept. 14, 1883. She attended the public schools and her entire life was spent in this vicinity with the exception of seven years following her marriage, she resided in the city of Chicago. She was united in marriage Apr. 10, 1908 to Jacob L. Poffenberger. To this union seven children were born, five sons and two daughters. Two sons and one daughter died in infancy and one son Jacob Jr. was killed by lightning two years ago June 11, 1929. Had he lived until Oct. 1, 1929 he would have been 21 years old. Her husband, two sons, Harold and Richard and one daughter Ethel, survive; also one brother Chas. H. Horner of Chicago and three sisters, Mrs. Chas. Barron, Mrs. G. B. Lindeman and Miss Mattie Horner of Dixon and all many other relatives and friends. She has been ill during the past seven years but was a loving mother, always cheerful and devoted to her family and home.

What is claimed to be the largest chimney in the world is that which was finished in 1909 at the works of the Boston and Montana Copper and Silver Mining Company near Great Falls, Mont. It is 506 feet in height. The blue of the sea stands in a constant ratio to its saltness. It is the tropics the tremendous evaporation makes for a more brilliant blue than in the northern seas.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPSEY McBRIDE, 19-year-old New York typist, marries JIM WALLACE the day after she meets him at the home of her wealthy cousin, ANN TROWBRIDGE. Gypsy has been lifted by ALAN CROSBY, just returned from a year and a half in Paris studying art. Wallace's fiancée has broken their engagement to marry a richer man.

Jim and Gypsy go to Forest City where Jim has a thriving law practice. His relative, Ann Crosby, writes to her but she returns the letter unopened. WALLACE, Gypsy's former fiancée, marries BROCK PHILLIPS, millionaire's son.

Monica goes and Brock Phillips is killed in a fall from a horse. Monica consults Jim about financial affairs and later tells him her marriage to Phillips was a mistake. She declares she cares only for him. Hart because she believes Jim has taken Monica Phillips to lunch, Gypsy accepts FRANK GIBSON's invitation to drive her home from a shopping trip. There is a collision and Gypsy's ankle is sprained. Jim is attentive during the days while the ankle is being treated. Gypsy comes into the house from the garden one morning to find Alan Crosby waiting to see her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIV
THE man and the girl stared at each other as though neither quite dared to believe the truth.

"Is it really you, Gypsy?" Crosby said in a low voice. "It's been so long—"

She came nearer and held out her hand. "Of course it's I." Gypsy's voice caught in a throaty laugh. "Don't you know me? I haven't changed. Alan. But you—how did you get here? Where did you come from? It doesn't seem possible!"

For a moment neither of them said anything. Crosby took Gypsy's hand and pressed it closely. He was studying her face. Gypsy looked up into the dark eyes and what she saw there set her heart beating rapidly. Alan looked thinner. He was pale too. Then she saw that his hair was brushed back from his forehead in the same careless, untidy, thoroughly delightful way.

Gypsy laughed nervously. "I'm a fine hostess—not even offering you a chair. Sit down, won't you?"

The young man did not move. "You're lovelier than ever, Gypsy. He told her. "You're like a picture. Why didn't I ever think to sketch you with an armful of yellow daisies like that? You're tanned and there's more color in your face. Lord—it's good just to look at you!"

She laid the flowers on the table came back and sank into a chair. "I haven't heard so many compliments in a long while," Gypsy told him. "It's very pleasant but I'd much rather you told me how you got here, what you're doing—"

"I'll tell you all about every thing," Crosby promised, "only it's going to take a little time. 'Not for a moment had he taken his eyes from the girl. 'I don't see how I could have forgotten you're so beautiful,' he finished.

"Really—" began Gypsy. She stopped because it seemed priggish to tell a young man she had known as long as she had Alan that he mustn't say she was beautiful. Gypsy was trying to be very calm but her cheeks were burning. Color indeed! Did Alan think she blushed constantly like this?

"I didn't know if I'd find you here," he was saying. "I sent a letter once and it came back. I did not know whether that meant you'd gone away or not."

Gypsy shook her head. "I haven't been away. I sent the letter back because—well, I thought it was the best thing to do."

"Oh!" Alan glanced downward. When he looked up again there was a queer tightening about his lips.

"ALAN, please tell me what you've been doing. Are you still with Thomas? How did you get my address? I've thought about you hundreds of times!"

"Have you?" There was a shade of bitterness in the young man's smile. "I feel flattered. No, I'm not with Thomas. Only lasted a month there."

"Didn't you like it? I thought you were so pleased with the work."

"Fired," he told her, "because my sketches were lousy and I had a row with the head of the department."

"Why, Alan?"

"You might as well hear the worst. You asked for it. Gypsy, I've made just about as big a fool of myself as a man can. I don't mind losing the job at Thomas' even though I was fired. I deserved to lose it. Got into a crowd that spent more than I could afford and wasted the nights going to parties and night clubs. I thought I was making a splash—meeting influential friends and all that. Say, they were all a bunch of four-flushers!"

"I couldn't work. My drawings got worse and worse. All the time I knew what the trouble was but I made myself believe the boss had a grudge against me. Finally he had a fight and it was a real one. I packed up my pencils and brushes and left the same day. That was when I found out just what the friends I'd been spending my money on were worth! I found out all right!"

"Oh, I'm so sorry, Alan."

"For two weeks I walked the streets looking for a job. Part of the time I didn't eat. Finally I got down to my last 50 cents and I'll tell you what I did—I went back to Mrs. O'Hare's and asked if I could wash dishes for my board."

"I found—I'm not much good as a dishwasher but she took me in. Fed me and gave me a place to sleep. When I wasn't working I kept on looking for a job. At last I landed the one I've got now."

"What is it?"

Crosby blushed slightly. "I'm selling photographs of landscapes," he said. "They're tinted in natural colors. Sorry I didn't bring my sample case, but if you'd like to buy some I'll come back—"

Gypsy went over beside him. "I wish I'd known," she told him. "I might have been able to help in some way."

"Thanks, but I wouldn't have let you. These photographs aren't really so bad. Some of them are good. I'm making more than I did before and in the evenings I can work. I've sold a couple of drawings to a magazine."

He hesitated. "One of them was a sketch of you, Gypsy."

"A picture of me?"

"It's one that I always liked," he told her. "Took it to France with me. I wonder if you remember it here," he was saying. "I sent a letter once and it came back. I did not know whether that meant you'd gone away or not."

Gypsy shook her head. "I haven't been away. I sent the letter back because—well, I thought it was the best thing to do."

COUZENS BLAMES GREED FOR MUCH OF DEPRESSION

Millionaire Senator's Views On Conditions Given To Press

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1931, by United Press) Washington, April 23 (UP)—Senator James Couzens, Repn., Mich., a multi-millionaire, attributes unemployment and attendant ills in the United States to unrestrained greed.

This wealthiest member of Congress is convinced the capitalistic system must be put in order by those in charge of it or suffer the consequences of regulation by the people. Although he prefers the scheme of private initiative upon which American business and industry has based its phenomenal development, Couzens says he is beginning to doubt the American people can continue to rely on it.

He discussed such matters in an interview with the United Press. His ideas illustrate the extent to which he rejects the accepted rich man's philosophy, and similarly rejects claims of the Republican party upon his vote when party principles counter his own ideas. The Senator splits his votes between the regular and progressive Republican groups and belongs to neither. The best definition of his political status in the Senate is "irregular."

His latest public statement was scathing comment on the United States Chamber of Commerce. The Atlantic City convention of the Chamber will begin next week. So luxurious a setting for the convention is in contrast to the condition of American business. The contrast irked Couzens.

"When they are having their night club party in the Pompano room of the Ambassador Hotel," he said, "I hope they will not forget the economic strain that more than 90 per cent of our people are going through."

The United Press sought from Mr. Couzens the answer of this question: "Who is responsible for that economic strain?"

Greed Responsible
"I doubt if you can say who is responsible," he replied. "But you can say what is responsible. It is unrestrained greed. And all who are actuated by unrestrained greed share responsibility for these conditions."

"One of the best examples of how these things come about and what is likely to be their development is given in the history of prohibition."

"I used to be Police Commissioner in Detroit at the time agitation for prohibition was increasing on a national scale. I know I warned brewers and distillers and I know others warned them that unless they put their own house in order the people would do it for them. The manner and method in which the people did that job is now history."

"Without any more claim to prophetic vision now than I could have had then, I can say the same thing is going to happen to capitalistic industry unless it puts its house in order. I think I see tendencies toward realization of that situation. I think there is beginning to be some understanding of it and of how inevitable it must be unless the capitalistic house is put in order."

"But, unfortunately, we have adopted the money yard stick as the measure of success. The men achieving success by that yardstick are able men. They have one-track minds. They drive toward a single objective. That objective is to make their own organization a success by the money yard stick and they think of nothing else."

Industry Takes Money
"If I had not got out of the Ford Motor Company at an age which would enable me to absorb some new ideas, I am reasonably certain I would have felt the same way about money and success. And you must understand I make no complaint against making money. Industry must be self supporting. It must make money. It does seem to me, though, that a great industrialist ought to get some satisfaction out of considering the human equation in his plant—more satisfaction from that than merely from making money."

Couzens thought Lincoln Steffens made a just estimate of the money yard stick group. Steffens as a reporter said of big business at the turn of the century that it was greedy, inhuman and cruel. But in his autobiography just published, Steffens says most of the business leaders of whom he wrote were good men. Their difficulty, Steffens explained, was that they lacked intelligence and information. Couzens suspects that this is true. But he believes, also, that industry can solve its problem.

"The only hope for social-mindedness among industrial leaders," he continued in response to questions, "is education. Industry might be educated to its responsibility. If it assumed the responsibility of paying an annual income to its workers it would find means of getting its money's worth. It could guarantee an annual income based on 40 weeks employment. Having done that, industry would see to it that there was work to be done. If American industry can do anything it can get its money's worth. It has shown that."

"There is food for thought in the anti-capitalistic system devised by Soviet Russia. Under our laws we insist on continuing the highly competitive system—the Clayton and Sherman acts lay down the policy on that question. But now our production exceeds our ability to consume. The question therefore arises, how far shall we insist on this highly competitive system of ours?"

"Are we to continue a dog-eat-dog, survival of the fittest system, or are we to have some regulation of competition? And of course it is obvious there can be no regulation except by government. I am not prepared to say what the future will bring. But it is a question certainly in need of attention."

"It is significant that both the anti-capitalists and capitalist systems now are running at full speed and that both can be observed in operation at the same time. Which of the two is the better is a matter of opinion."

"But I will say, that inefficient as the democratic form of government is, and even with all the claims made that the dead hand of government must not throttle industry, it is better that be done than that we should pass through economic conditions such as these. I have no

ABE MARTIN

"I never bother myself about th' goin' an' comin' o' my daughter. I jest read t'day that a girl th'd been missin' since th' Fourth o' July has been found in th' Carpathian Mountains alive an' doin' fine," says Mrs. Tilford Mooles. I kin remember when all th' brilliant colors that are so pop'lar t'day were only used on croquet balls.

ROCHELLE NEWS

ROCHELLE—Rochelle grade school children will appear at a Woman's Club program on April 24th. The program will consist of the Bancroft Posture Test, dances and mat work. This constitutes a part of the regular and special activities of the physical education classes.

Physical education was accepted as a part of the Rochelle Grade School curriculum this year and has been found to be very beneficial for the school children. They have improved in posture, grace, muscle coordination, sportsmanship, leadership and courage.

Both Delbert Price and Mrs. Lucille Cain are working with the boys and girls of the Junior High School in connection with the annual track and field meets that are held each spring. A great deal of interest is being shown and the prospects look bright for a championship team. It might be said in this connection that Mr. Price's boys have won most of the events at the County Track meet in previous years.

W. F. Hackett is retiring this year after fifteen years' service on School Board 131, Rochelle's graded public schools, serving the past year as president of the board. He leaves behind him an enviable record of high service and a duty well performed. There is no material compensation paid the men and women who are members of their time.

The special activities calendar for Rochelle's graded public schools for the month of April will be devoted to obedience and nature study. This will include—obedience to parents, elders, our state—and obedience to the laws of nature and to Diety. Selected work, relative to Arbor and Bird Day will also command the attention of the children.

Loses 12 lbs. on 2 Bottles of Magic Medicine

Don't let ugly fat ruin your beauty and health. Just buy a bottle of Bonkura, the marvelous new fat-reducing treatment. Unhealthy fat quickly disappears, and with it constipation, bloating, gas, and other stomach ills. While fat is vanishing health improves. You'll feel years younger—yes, look younger! Your figure will become youthful—slender! Above all, Bonkura is safe—contains only herbs, roots, seeds, and mineral salts.

Miss Carrie Rouch, 1422 E. 9th St., Muncie, Ind., says: "I had tried nearly everything to reduce, but with no results until I started taking Bonkura. I had less than two bottles of it, and have lost 12 lbs. and I sure feel better. Besides being overweight, I've had a bad case of stomach trouble with constant pain and much gas and bloating. My limbs were terribly bloated. I felt stuffy, was short of breath and subject to dizziness. Bonkura has already checked these symptoms. I sure am going to continue your wonderful treatment!"

Big bottle of Bonkura costs only 98c.
